Dear Thayne Harbaugh,

We received your email regarding the aircraft with the Air Force serial number 42-109258 and Navy bureau number 152258.

I have enclosed selected copies of the aircraft history cards for this aircraft printed from our 16mm/35mm microfilmed originals. This is the best available copy of the cards we could achieve given the resolution of the microfilm and the standards of our equipment.

Aircraft history cards show the location or controlling unit and status of that aircraft at a given time. They are not an operational history of the aircraft and do not include any information on missions flown, crews assigned, or markings. They do not generally include specific maintenance or modification information.

You will see that there is only a set of Navy cards. It has been our experience that the Air Force did not create a record card for aircraft transferred to the Navy.

I hope this information helps you with your research. Thank you for your interest in the National Air and Space Museum.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth C. Borja, CA
